Trading Practices Policy

1. Purpose

This Trading Practices Policy outlines trading activities that are considered abusive, manipulative, or inconsistent with fair trading conditions. Dominion Markets reserves the right to take action where such activity is identified.

2. Prohibited Trading Practices

The following activities are strictly prohibited, whether conducted manually or using automated systems, bots, APIs, VPS, or third-party software:

- High Frequency Trading (HFT)
- Ultra-low latency trading
- Latency arbitrage
- Price feed arbitrage
- Tick scalping designed to exploit execution delays
- Order flooding or excessive order placement
- Quote stuffing
- Toxic flow or liquidity provider exploitation
- Use of bots designed to exploit execution speed
- Multi-account arbitrage
- Coordinated or group trading
- Copy trading used to exploit pricing discrepancies
- Swap-free abuse
- Bonus abuse or risk-free trading
- Exploitation of system errors or pricing errors
- Trading based on stale or delayed pricing
- Any strategy designed to exploit platform latency or technological vulnerabilities

Dominion Markets reserves the right to determine whether trading activity falls within prohibited practices.

3. Related Accounts

Dominion Markets may treat accounts as related where common characteristics exist, including:

- same IP address
- same device
- same VPS
- same payment method
- same trading strategy
- same signal provider
- correlated trading behaviour
- common ownership or control

Where accounts are related, Dominion Markets may take action across all related accounts.

4. Actions Dominion Markets May Take

Where prohibited trading is identified, Dominion Markets may:

- Cancel transactions
- Void trades ab initio
- Reverse executions
- Revoke profits
- Retain profits
- Adjust account balances
- Close open positions
- Restrict trading activity
- Suspend withdrawals
- Place account under investigation
- Suspend or terminate account
- Recover withdrawn funds

Such actions may be taken without prior notice where necessary to protect market integrity. Any such action taken by Dominion Markets shall not give rise to any claim for damages, compensation, or loss of opportunity by the Client.

5. Invalid Profits

Profits generated from prohibited trading activity shall be considered invalid, void, and not payable to the Client and shall not create any legal entitlement. Dominion Markets reserves the right to cancel, remove, deduct, or recover such profits, including profits already withdrawn.

6. Determination

Dominion Markets shall determine, acting reasonably and in good faith, whether trading activity constitutes prohibited trading. Such determination may be based on:

- trading patterns
- execution timing
- server logs
- liquidity provider feedback
- risk management analysis
- system data

Dominion Markets' determination shall be final in the absence of manifest error.

7. Policy Updates

Dominion Markets may amend this Trading Practices Policy at any time. The latest version shall be available on the Company's Website or Client Portal.
